

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Rentokil Initial is committed to the provision of services and products, which improve the quality of life, for both our customers and the community, using working practices designed to protect the environment.

Constant research is carried out into new services, developing new methods and investing in new technologies, in particular to protect and improve the environment in which people work.

We are proud of our technical leadership, where research, development and training enable us to offer the best quality of service across our range of services.

It is the responsibility of the Company and each employee to ensure that all services and products are procured, produced, packaged and delivered, and waste materials ultimately disposed of, in ways which are environmentally safe and responsible and in accordance with all relevant environmental laws and regulations.

Rentokil Initial employees have a responsibility to carry out their work in a manner that will not cause damage to the environment.
